

IT PROJECT MANAGER - ADVERT

Seeking a passionate and enthusiastic IT Project Manager

Reds Global is an industry leader in the supply of Tower Cranes and Personnel to the Construction Industry. We service major construction projects in several states around Australia and we are seeking an IT Project Manager to work in a small close-knit team environment. The role is based at our head office, located at Somersby on the Central Coast of NSW.

About the role

We are seeking an experienced and proven IT Project Manager to join our team for an initial 6-month project. We are excited to embark on a full systems transformation and require someone to help craft our vision all the way through to implementation and training. Working across the entire Project Management lifecycle, you will be tasked with process mapping, business analysis, identify, source and implement agreed solutions. Your experience will be trusted to recommend and advise a cloud-based solution that will revolutionise how Reds Global operates.

This is the type of end to end Project that you will be proud to highlight in your resume as this will have a major impact within the business.

- Autonomous role
- Process mapping
- Business analysis
- Identify and present best solutions
- Implement with a focus on automating efficiencies
- Change management

Your attitude will be:

- Passionate and proactive
- Resourceful and self-motivated

Your skills and experience will consist of:

- Construction/Industrial industry experience is favourable but not essential
- Previous experience implementing CRM / ERP in small-medium sized organisations
- Project Management certification, PMP
- Experience within Agile and Waterfall environments
- Experience with implementing greenfield projects
- Natural problem solver and critical thinker
- 5 + years' experience in project management
- Advanced communication, interpersonal and leadership skills
- Strong stakeholder engagement ability

A competitive salary is on offer for the successful candidate. If you feel that you would excel working for Reds Global in this role, please send your resume to admin@redsglobal.com for consideration. Only candidates offered an interview will be contacted.
